

Dear folks,
I am currently an XM radio user as well as Sirius user and I'm writing to tell you that I utilize both services and their traffic and weather information. I find that their information is more timely and accurate than local radio stations and since they do not use commercial interruptions, the reports are VERY fast.

Any FCC action to change or eliminate this service would be contrary to public service in my view and eliminate healthy competition to the broadcast community.

Thanks you for listening.

Robert Kuhn